Metropolitan Ballet welcomes New Faculty!

Daniel Mayo

Daniel Mayo is originally from Myrtle Beach, South Carolina. He received his BFA in Dance in 2007 from The Juilliard School in New York City. Daniel most recently danced with Philadelphia based company BalletX, from 2014 until his retirement in August 2018. As a member of BalletX, Daniel performed extensively throughout the United States and was featured in numerous creations including works by choreographers Matthew Neenan, Jorma Elo, Nicolo Fonte, and Trey McIntyre. Prior to joining BalletX, Daniel was a member of the Montreal based company RUBBERBANDance Group under the direction of Victor Quijada. During his 3 years with RUBBERBANDance Group, Daniel toured throughout North America, Europe, and Asia, and participated in multiple film projects, most notably for Bravo!FACT. From 2007-2010 Daniel was a company dancer with Atlanta Ballet under the direction of John McFall, where he performed many classical roles as well as contemporary works. He has also worked professionally as a guest artist with The Atlanta Opera, Dance Grand Moultrie, and Bennyroyce Dance. In addition to performing, Daniel was on faculty at Western Wyoming Community College, and currently serves as a guest teacher and choreographer throughout the United States. He is delighted to join the MBA faculty for 2018-2019, and will lead beginning, intermediate and advanced classes in Metropolitan Ballet Company's (MBC) Boys' Scholarship Program.

Elizabeth Seader Fine

Elizabeth Seader Fine has been teaching ballet in the Montgomery and Bucks County region for over twenty years. She started her training in Doylestown, Pa, at Budzynski Studios of Ballet. She also attended the School of The Pennsylvania Ballet and North Carolina School of the Arts, along with summer sessions at the New York

State Summer School of the Arts, where she studied with members of New York City Ballet, Nashville Ballet and Pacific Northwest Ballet School. After graduating, Elizabeth moved to Seattle, Washington, where she attended Pacific Northwest Ballet School, and was part of the advanced professional class, where she had the opportunity to perform with the company on various occasions. She is a former principal dancer with Dance Theatre of Pennsylvania, and has taught master classes for the Villanova University Dance ensemble. Elizabeth has her BA from Temple University with a double major in History and Art History.

Giving Opportunities!

The 2017-18 Season was full of spectacular moments and we hope you are as proud of our school and company dancers as we are. As we make this transition from one season to the next, reflect on the past and anticipate the present, it is ever more apparent that we could not do any of this without your support. Thank you so much!

We hope you will consider making a gift of $50 to start our new season strong.

Thank you!

Every gift in any amount makes a difference! We truly appreciate your support!
